

Multnomah Democrats Climate Action Team Presents a series of forums on Comprehensive Climate Action in Oregon

beginning with:

The Possible Role of Market Mechanisms in Comprehensive Climate Action in Oregon

Dr Pat DeLaquil, Energy systems modeling and policy analysis;
Dr John Perona, Professor of environmental biochemistry, PSU and OHSU;
Professor Melissa Powers, Lewis and Clark Law School;

When: Wednesday November 13, 2019 Doors open, 6:30 pm; Program 7 – 8:30 pm

Where: Hollywood Senior Center 1820 NE 40th Ave., Portland, OR

Goals:

- Review critical components of comprehensive climate action policy
- Promote a better understanding of carbon market mechanisms
- Foster cooperation and better understanding of the grueling legislative process and of the urgent need to keep building a strong enough majority to pass strong climate legislation in line with the Green New Deal aspirations here in Oregon.
